'First Impressions: Exploring Drawing into Painting'

Capturing essence, luminosity, mystery through gouache (unique, creamy, water-soluble opaque paint used by the Impressionists in layering values, dimension and drama), graphite, mixtures of mediums on prepared panels and paper

~for the inquisitive beginner and the seasoned artist~

A Course for Creative Exploration

An Artists' Retreat, Cypress Inn and Vagabond's House invite you to this extraordinary art retreat!

The Setting

The village of Carmel-by-the-Sea, described as one of the most stunningly beautiful landscapes in the world, has provided inspiration to artists, photographers, writers and composers from across the globe with its indescribable light and beauty, gorgeous white-sand beaches, dazzling vistas of the Pacific Ocean and European charm.

Two world-acclaimed inns, Cypress Inn and Vagabond's House will host An Artists' Retreat with Anna Rhodes for this unforgettable adventure! Classes will be taught at the renowned Sunset Center in a large sun-filled studio equipped with individual easels and an array of the finest artists' materials. The combination of this stunning setting, uniquely charming world-class accommodations, highly personalized service, delicious dining, and a dedicated instructor with an in-depth exploration of art are the ingredients for this unsurpassed experience at one of Condé Nast Magazine's top-ten rated destinations.

Both inns provide the allure of old world charm masterfully blended with modern comforts for today's discerning artists and travelers. Cypress Inn, described as a "bit of paradise," is co-owned by Doris Day and offers a rich history with Mediterranean grace and warm hospitality. Vagabond's House, a charming brick and half-timbered English Tudor Inn, always feels like home with its magical courtyard, fireside reception and the dedicated service of an attentive staff. Both are located in the midst of Carmel's finest restaurants, unique shops and well-known art galleries, just blocks from the famous Carmel Beach.

The Course

During our daily classes, from 9AM to 4PM, we will experiment with a myriad of artists' mediums and materials including gouache, pencils, Caran d'ache, Cretacolor and the finest papers, primed panels and brushes. We will also experiment with ways to mix and apply color and various techniques for drawing and composition. The resulting art could take many forms. We will work on combining the skills, intuition and freedom needed to create unique works that reflect individual vision. The course offers enhanced instruction: participants will get both individual attention and the chance for group interaction and discussion.

A wide array of materials and equipment will be provided in the studio. A detailed list of additional artist supplies needed for the course will be sent upon your registration. These materials can be found in most local art supply stores and will also be available for purchase in advance from Anna Rhodes. These materials have been chosen for their quality and flexibility, and with the intention that you will enjoy using them long after the course.

The setting for our artistic endeavors is the studio at The Sunset Cultural Center, with its beautiful light, large expansive windows and walls. It is within walking distance of the inns and the sea. The visually rich environment of Carmel and the beautifully appointed inns and studio will offer many inspirations.
